General information – Electoral Gifts Register and disclosures

Candidates and donors of electoral gifts must disclose electoral gifts received, made or promised during the disclosure period, which runs until the day of swearing-in for successful candidates or three days after election day for unsuccessful candidates.

Electoral gifts must be disclosed either -

- within 3 days of nomination if the gift is received, made or promised before the nomination of the candidate; or
- within 3 days of receipt, delivery or promise of the gift once the candidate has been nominated.

A gift is an electoral gift for the purposes of the Local Government (Elections) Regulations 1997 where -

- the gift is linked to the candidate's candidacy; and
- the value of the donation is $300 or more, or it is one of two or more gifts made by a person during the disclosure period and with a total value of $300 or more.

Donors of electoral gifts are closely associated persons within the meaning of the Act. Before accepting campaign gifts, candidates should consider how the acceptance may affect their ability to participate in future decision-making processes of Council.

Electoral gifts do not include the provision of volunteer labour, gifts in a will, or gifts by a relative (as defined by section 5.74(1) of the Act).
