The View from Here Is Good

I was fortunate to be able to attend a small morning tea this morning for the purpose of introducing Shire of Toodyay staff to the new Toodyay Aquatic Centre.

I had of course, been part of this project like so many of us. And so, like an expectant parent – I could not hide the enormous pride for this new facility and to see the project and more importantly the dream of this community – realized.

It is easy to forget how lucky this community is to be blessed with such breathtaking natural beauty when we have been busy navigating through uncertain and difficult times. It is easy to underestimate the hard work that has gone into this project through the various stages of its life. But today, I looked around and I saw a world-class sporting and recreation facility nestled amongst Toodyay's rolling hills and valleys. It had finally all come together.

The new facility is a positive symbol for Toodyay, for its community and for the Shire. It demonstrates that vision, collaboration, persistence, and hard work can achieve truly wonderful outcomes.

I urge you all to use this wonderful space. It has been planned and built for you – by you. And, whether you are walking or swimming laps, playing in the leisure pool, competing for school or just lounging around – please look up once in a while and admire the view – it really is a special feeling and one which we are all lucky to be a part of. A Message from the Shire President.....

Well the energy in our community continues and the release of the Inquiry Report on the 13th has brought some needed clear air to accompany the nice weather.

As mentioned in my last article, the month opened with the acknowledgment of the completion of the old gaol restoration works by the Restoration and Convict Depot Walk from the Toodyay Visitors Centre which was enriched by the Governor, the Hon. Kim Beazley AC enthusiasm for our local history and anecdotes of his Toodyay convict roots.

The 10th saw the opening of two fantastic additions to our volunteer fire and emergency services by the Hon. Francis Logan, Minister for Emergency Services and Darren Klemm, Commissioner of DFES.

The newly completed Coondle-Nunile FB base at the Coondle silos is an excellent, innovative improvement from the traditional fire shed design and a big change from the spiritual home of twenty seven years on Coondle West Road. The transition required a great deal of adjustment and good will, well done and congratulations.

The second event was the Morangup Co-location Centre extensions, a testimony to the outstanding will and work of volunteer's in making this transition from their one bay shed of the early 1980s. Through a succession of builds, grit, ingenuity and volunteered labour, the one bay fire brigade shed morphed to four bays around 1994, enlarged again in 2014 and finally with DFES funding in 2020, to a seven bay fire and SES base.

Credit for the smooth outcome of these recent works must be given to the Shire CESM Robert Koch, who undertook the enormous project without losing sight of volunteers needs. The importance of these upgrades to our volunteers is significant and their importance to this community cannot be understated, they are simply fantastic, and we are fortunate.

On the 13th the release of the protracted Toodyay Inquiry Report into the Shire of Toodyay brought relief and an end to the state of apprehension for many. Although the outcome was not flattering, it was now known and cleared the air. Recriminations are a distraction from action. It is time to move forward and continue to exact the changes needed from the findings and lessons learnt.

Some points of interest in current affairs are that the Office of Auditor General will now undertake Shire Audits from the 2020/2021 financial year from which an increase in costs may occur. The Rangers are now issuing a warning before a fine. Tricor on Toodyay Rd near Morangup, applied to Mundaring Shire Council to increase gravel extraction in their operation from 39,000 to 950,000 tonnes/annum and vehicle movements from 20 to 139 per day. Toodyay's submission of 2018 still applied so it was gratifying to hear the application was rejected, although it is likely it will be appealed.

Just a reminder soil moisture levels are low for this time of the year meaning there is more fuel available, so please be mindful of activities. Aside, shake out the togs and try our pool.

Sharing our museum collection with a world-wide audience

Over the last few weeks we have begun uploading photographs and information about our museum collection to a new online platform called Collections WA.

The Collections WA website became live in June 2020, after some extensive behind the scenes development by the Collections Sector Working Group led by the Western Australian Museum. The working group also includes senior representatives from the State's premier cultural institutions as well as the Australian Museums & Galleries Association, Western Australia.

Collections WA is a searchable platform that will bring together many different collections held by community cultural institutions across Western Australia. These may include Aboriginal language centres, RSL branches, historical societies and school archives as well as museums and galleries.

Collections WA will connect to the Culture WA portal that provides access to WA's four main collecting institutions – the WA Museum, the Art Gallery of WA, the State Records Office and the State Library of WA. It will also be linked to Trove, the National Library of Australia's digital search engine.

The platform is part of a digital package that will also include a tourism portal, which will connect with other tourism platforms to drive tourism to the regions. To view our landing page on this website please follow this link: collections.wa.net.au/organisations/shire-toodyay

Toodyay colonial era furniture

Furniture held in the collections of the Shire of Toodyay is included in a new book being launched Saturday, 14 November.

Titled "Colonial Furniture of Western Australia 1829-1910", the large volume is by Tim Harris who we engaged for our "A Craftsman at Work" event at the Newcastle Gaol when he restored a colonial era desk, witness stand and ladder. Tim also restored the council chambers circular desk and the façade of the raised "judges" area.

Waste Team of the Year - Volunteers of Toodyay Museums!

Our volunteers' shingles project has come up trumps in the Infinity Waste Management Awards 2020.

The category entered was Waste Team of the Year. Our small group of vollies have beaten some significant opposition including Sir Charles Gairdner Hospital, City of Bunbury Waste Services Team and City of Wanneroo Waste Team.

The Volunteers of Toodyay Museums are part of a small, dedicated team that have demonstrated a commitment to reducing waste and protecting heritage through Project Shingles. The team recovered approximately 21,000 shingles and prevented 12 tonnes of material from going to landfill. The recovered shingles are cleaned and sold as souvenirs or used as a unique canvas for craft people to work with.

The annual awards - run by the Waste Authority - recognise individuals, businesses, government, schools, community organisations, not-for-profits and media outlets for their innovative solutions to reduce waste and promote reuse and recycling.

A shortlist of more than 100 nominations were assessed by the Department of Water and Environmental Regulation and the Waste Authority. The calibre of entries was exceptionally high.

The diversity of the nominees this year demonstrates better waste outcomes are being achieved for everything from large redevelopments right through to community projects and illustrates the commitment of many to make WA a better and more sustainable place to live. Full media release can be found here: www.mediastatements.wa.gov.au/Pages/McGowan/2020/11/WA-waste-champions-recognised-to-Infinity-and-beyond.aspx

Missing - Lovers Lane newly installed signage

Assets and Services is investigating a recent theft after a number of signs were stolen from Lovers Lane, Toodyay. Not only is having to replace these brand new signs a waste of ratepayer funds, their absence means there is little warning of dangers and changes to road conditions, leading to increased potential for accidents.

The Shire of Toodyay is forced to spend ratepayer funds each year repairing and replacing assets damaged by vandalism and theft, if residents have any information or witness an event, please contact the Police.

Toodyay Road Upgrade – First Overtaking Lane in Shire of Toodyay

Construction of the first overtaking lane on Toodyay Road in the Shire of Toodyay is due to start on 23 November 2020 by Main Roads. The westbound overtaking lane will be 2.2 kilometres long and located west of Lovers Lane. As part of this work, the road near the overtaking lane will be realigned and widened and audible edge and centre lines will be installed.

Fencing, vegetation and minor earthworks will be completed by the end of the year. Work will be undertaken between 6am and 6pm with traffic management including a speed reduction.

Construction of the new lane will commence in early 2021 and will involve temporary sealed side-tracks until May 2021. Traffic lights will be required occasionally and will be operated by a traffic controller during working hours and sensor driven outside of these times.

We continue to seek feedback from the community and stakeholders on future stages of upgrades through a Community Reference Group (CRG). The group includes representatives from the Shire of Toodyay, Toodyay Agricultural Society, Toodyay Naturalist Club, Toodyay Roadwise Committee, Toodyay Friends of the River, Toodyay St John Ambulance, Wildflower Society of WA, WA Police, WALGA Roadwise and neighbouring landowners.

The CRG has guided our ongoing focus, which is to minimise the environmental impacts as much as possible, while enhancing safety and efficiency for all users.

To minimise the environmental impacts, Main Roads has optimised the road design to reduce the amount of vegetation to be removed. The environmental offset will ensure 196 hectares of prime Wandoo woodland adjacent to the Clackline Nature Reserve will be conserved in perpetuity and 188 artificial black cockatoo nesting hollows will be installed in the reserve or other nearby nature reserves. A revegetation plan has been developed to contribute to the ecological connectivity and to preserve the look and feel of the roadside. Seed collections and community plant transplants have been undertaken.

For project updates, please sign up on the project page at www.mainroads.wa.gov.au. Main Roads can be contacted by phone on 138 138 or email enquiries@mainroads.wa.gov.au.

2021 Community Citizen of The Year Awards

The Shire of Toodyay would like to thank the Toodyay Community for their nominations for the "Community Citizen of The Year Awards" for the 2021 Australia Day Celebrations.

With many of our community members being selfless and innovative in the community space, the Shire is looking forward to recognising those community members and community groups on this very special day.

What's bright red, has three wheels and will take you to places in Toodyay you've never been before? That would be the titular trike of Avon Valley Trike Tours – a business established in 2019 by two bikers from way back, and one that has attracted loads of local and not-so-local attention ever since. That shouldn't come as a surprise: the classic cherry-red Chopper owned and beloved by Toodyay residents Kevin and Jess is nothing if not eye-catching.

It's certainly a far cry from the trike many of us learned to ride as kids...except Kev, perhaps, whose lifetime love for motorcycles began when he was born in the sidecar of his parents' bike. Jess doesn't have a similar story to tell, but the pair nonetheless share a passion that saw them biking their way around Australia and pit-stopped in Byron Bay when they saw the Chopper on the side of the road, then-owner by her side. They bonded with the man, who was running his own trike tour business on the east coast until a fortunate twist of fate had him make the move to WA and decide to pass his pride and joy on, for the right price and to the right people. Kev and Jess knew they were those people, and took it off his hands at top speed. They had originally settled in Toodyay for the thrill of riding the hills, and once the trike was theirs they knew they wanted to share that experience – and so Avon Valley Trike Tours was (kick) started in January last year.

The idea is simple but effective: up to three passengers at a time can hop on board and see Toodyay like never before over a half hour, an hour, or an hour and a half. The sixty-minute tour is Jess' pick and the most popular choice, giving backseat riders the best overview of the town and taking routes and roads even local customers aren't familiar with. Kev and Jess don't like to give too much away, and the mystery of exactly where the trike takes its passengers has proven irresistible to people from all walks – and stages – of life. Pre-teens and pensioners have tried out the trike most often, with a 98-year-old naming her tour as a life highlight (which is saying something when there's almost a century of experiences to compare it to). It seems there are plenty of ladies who find a man in leather irresistible too, judging by the propositions Kev receives on the regular.

It's not just people of all ages attracted to the trike (and to Kev) but of all places too, from suburban Perth and the eastern states to India, Germany, the UK, and even the North Pole come Christmas time. It turns out Santa Claus enjoys swapping his standard sleigh for something with higher ho-ho-horsepower – as opposed to reindeer power – when he's in the Avon Valley, and Kev and Jess are happy to oblige if it means they stay off his naughty list.

The pair's professional partnership sees Kev taking the trike on tour while Jess takes charge of the admin side of things. She also plays paparazzi for each and every ride, capturing souvenir action shots – so there's not just wildflower and wildlife spotting to do along the way, but a bit of Jess spotting as well. For Kev, who spends his spare time restoring vintage vehicles, being a trike-riding tour guide is a dream job. Both he and Jess get more job satisfaction from the enthusiasm of their customers than from the money they make, and it's clear that mixing business with pleasure worked out very well for them.

Tours usually begin and end at the Cola Café where the trike has a complimentary parking space, but pickup from the Visitor's Centre or either of Toodyay's caravan parks can be arranged. As well as set tours, custom tours, surprise rides and transport to school balls/weddings are on offer. It's the surprises (a great gift for the person who has everything except their own trike) and the pre-programmed tours that have kept Kev and Jess busiest since the business began. Customers can't keep away either, with loads of locals – whose support, Jess says, is invaluable – opting for repeat rides. Kev and Jess make sure to throw in some surprises for them too, so if you get a taste for the trike life and book a second or third (or tenth) tour, you won't have the same experience twice. You don't even have to be a daredevil to take a spin: tours are extremely safe and speed limits are stuck to like superglue. If you are after an adrenaline rush, however – and you ask 'wheeler' nicely – Kevin might treat you to a trick or two.

Having had to hit the brakes during the peak of the COVID pandemic, Kev and Jess are thankfully getting things back on track. Their tours are now running Monday through Saturday (Kev taking a well-deserved day off on Sundays) and all year round, sans those days when Mother Nature is misbehaving. The ride of your life will cost you $90 for half an hour, $160 for an hour, or $240 for an hour-and-a-half, and that's priced per ride rather than per person – so it's worth having one or two thrill-seeking friends or family members tag along. Helmets and jackets are supplied and bookings are essential, so check out Avon Valley Trike Tours on Facebook facebook.com/avtriketours, call Kev 0417 742 135, or call Jess 0427 387 247 to secure your seat. You'll only regret the ride you didn't take!

The Toodyay District High School Parents & Citizens Association (P&C) promotes cooperation between parents, students, school staff and community members for the benefit of all students at Toodyay District High School. Here's some of what we've been up to this month.

Toodyay District High School Halloween disco
Friday 30 October

TDHS students and friends dressed in their scariest outfits and danced their spooky best at the Halloween disco.

Thanks to local sponsors, Toodyay Tyres, Tony Maddox Real Estate Avon, Skip Bins, Sharon Boyle – Scentsy, EAG Electrical Air-conditioning & Gas, and Toodyay CRC for their generosity towards prizes and disco expenses.

A special mention goes to Tash Hof, DJ Lisa Malatesta, Charlie (face painting), Principal David Ball and canteen volunteers for their spooky treats.

The night was a huge success and raised funds for TDHS students.

Farming for Toodyay District High School

Farming for Toodyay DHS – is a collaborative effort to raise funds for the school through two initiatives. A tonne for TDHS and a share farmed grain crop.

A tonne for TDHS invites farmers to nominate a tonne of grain to the P&C's CBH account during harvest. It's a no fuss way for farmers in our district to support students at TDHS. Simply contact the Grower Services Centre on 1800 199 083 or use LoadNet to donate a tonne to TDHS P&C.

The second initiative, a share farmed grain crop for TDHS, seeks to create a genuine share cropping arrangement. The P&C will raise funds to contribute to the costs of a share crop in 2021 and reinvest profits for future years. If you can help in any way, we want to hear from you.

Please contact Kelly-Anne Murray on pandctoodaydhs@gmail.com or 0406 585 716 for further information.

Membership is open to anyone supporting the P&C's purpose. To receive a membership form, please email pandctoodaydhs@gmail.com, message via the facebook page – search 'Toodyay DHS P&C', or pick up a membership form from the school office.
